'66

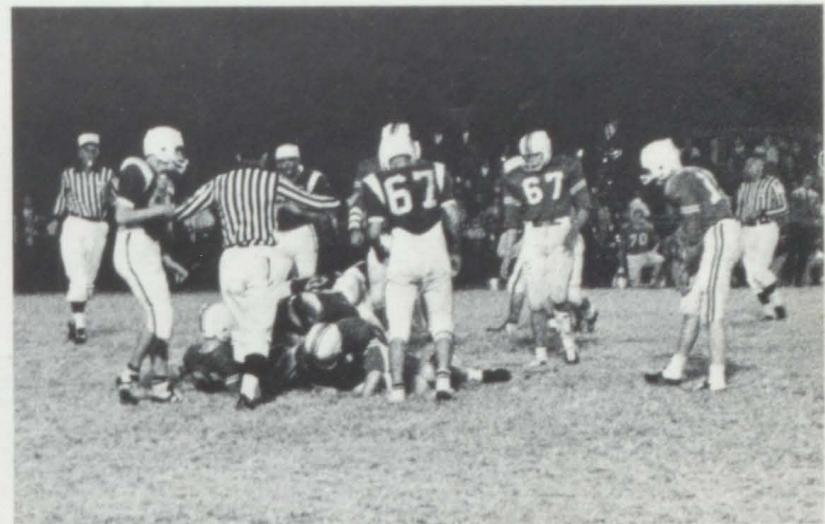

FOREWORD

VALLIHI '66 has been designed to recall the memories of 1965-1966 at Fort Valley High School. This has been a year filled with hope, joy, and expectation. However, when the year has ended, an air of sadness prevails. Look upon these pages, that they may recount these emotions. This is our purpose for VALLIHI '66 . . . the memories of a school.

Mr. Bob McClendon

DEDICATION

As students pass through their years of learning, they fortunately become acquainted with teachers whose high principles are indelibly stamped on the minds of their pupils. To these teachers, students will be eternally grateful—grateful for the knowledge they have shared and for their unselfish devotion to all. The dedication of this book seems meager thanks for this invaluable service. The Key Club of Fort Valley High School has dedicated this annual to such a person. Therefore, it is with great pride that we dedicate VALLIHI '66 to MR. BOB McCLENDON for his unfailing generosity to the students of Fort Valley High School.

A DAY BEGINS WITH CLASSES . . .

Above: The new language laboratory has become a great aid to students in their study of Spanish. That is, when they can keep up with the records!

Right: Typing classes are spent constantly turning out jobs.

Above: Mechanical drawing . . . A training ground for aspiring young comedians and the . . . Malibu's???

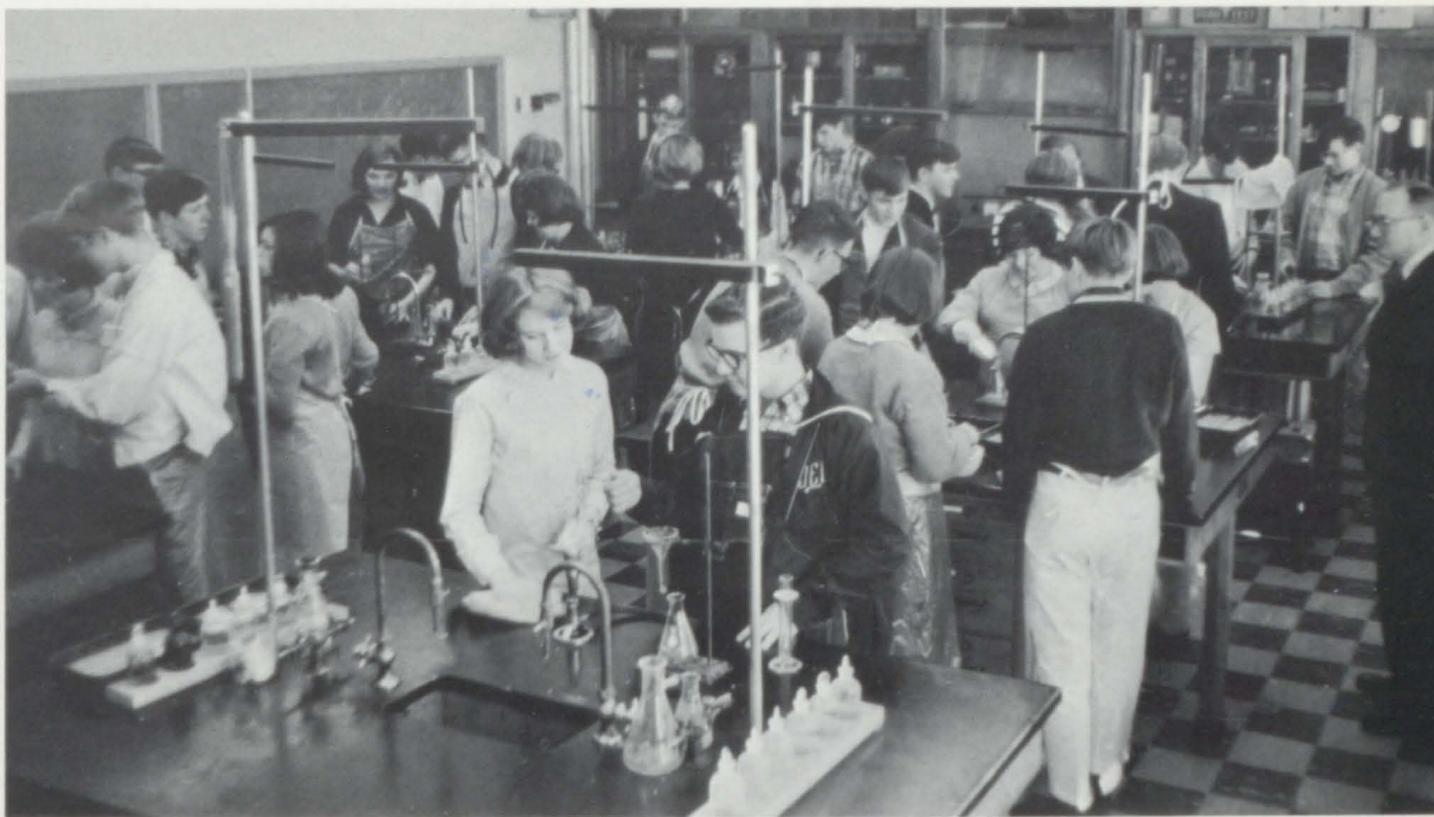

. . . AND WORK . . .

... FOLLOWED BY

Right: Mrs. Lee's senior English class constantly keeps students on their toes.

Above: "Mr. McClendon, you did say use concentrated hydrochloric acid and not diluted???? Didn't you?"

Below: Miss Bell's trig class spends its classroom hours solving problem after problem.

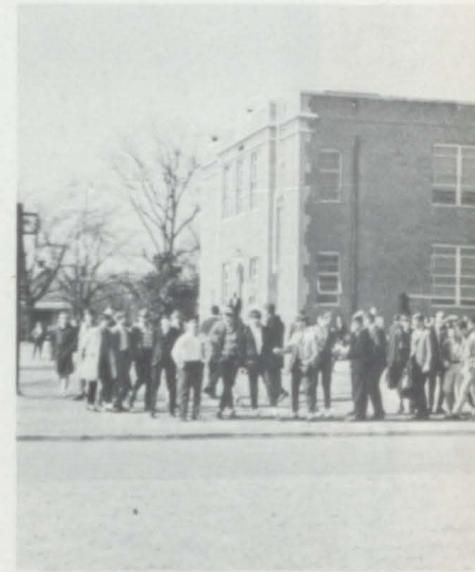

MORE WORK . . .

... LUNCH BRINGS

We had some real fun here!

Above: Looks like another lunchtime party going on in the senior store.

Above: After lunch the boys go to their side of the building, eagerly awaiting the resumption of classes.

Below: The lunchroom provides students a place to sit down, enjoy a meal, and REST.

Below: The inmates in "The Hole" take time to drink a Coke, eat a sandwich, and shoot the bull.

Below: At the same time, "Where the Girls Are", the latest gossip flows across the table.

A WELCOMED BREAK . . .

. . . A TIME TO STUDY

Above: Study hall provides a chance to catch up with their work and prepare for the next day's lessons.

THE NIGHT BRINGS THE CROWNING OF A QUEEN

A HOMECOMING CROWD WATCHES

Hey? Did my flag get mixed up with Vicky's?

Above: The Queen and her Court—Marilyn Luce, Linda Walton, Vicki Duke, Debbie Dunning, Ann Thurmond, Nancy Webb, Mimi Harrison, Georann Peterson, Sheryl Irby, Lainey Hunnicutt.

Right: The student section watches anxiously as the Green-wave moves downfield for the winning score.

A 14-7 SECOND HALF WIN!

A lone student takes a final walk down the halls as a senior at Fort Valley High School. A year from now, he will be in a different school . . . a world of new teachers, classes, responsibilities, and friends. This is what the awesome future holds. For the moment, he bids a fond farewell to VALLIHI and the memories which it holds.

ONE-ACT PLAY

The one act-play, under the direction of Miss Norma Boyer, turned in fine performances again this year. After taking first place honors in the sub-region at Hawkinsville, the cast and crew journeyed to Sylvania; where Lainey Hunnicutt and Al Pearson were selected Best Actress and Actor in the region, and the play was declared the region's best. Two weeks later the destination was Athens and state competition. There the performance was given fourth place and received three points in the state literary competition.

CHEERLEADERS

Their vim and vigor urge GREENWAVE teams to victory—

Their lusty yells fill every silence—

They are the Fort Valley High School Cheerleaders—the essence of school spirit. They have worked so that their enthusiasm might direct our cheers with precision and fervor.

During the course of a day, one may catch a glimpse of the never tiring cheerleaders at work on decorating the halls or some device to create a spark of enthusiasm in the hearts of their fellow classmates.

These cheerleaders constitute the backbone of school spirit at FORT VALLEY HIGH SCHOOL.

VALLIHI STAFF

This year the annual staff assumed its duties with many anticipations. We had numerous ideas and changes which we wanted to use. Through these changes we, the annual staff of 1966, have tried to capture part of the old and the new at Fort Valley High School. We have strived to make this book one of which you can be proud. The preparation of this book has been an experience which we shall always remember. Our only wish is that these pages will spark memories for you in the years to come. This is your yearbook, Vallihi '66.

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

Class of 1966, soon you will be leaving Fort Valley High School to seek new knowledge and to make new friends, and your years at Fort Valley High School will serve as a good foundation, and these will prove to be the most important years of your life.

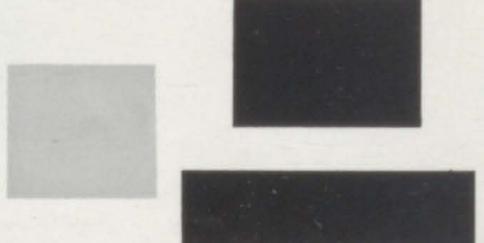

As you leave us soon, don't forget that part of the school will go with you, and that you will leave part of yourself with FVHS.

May every member of the 1966 Class bring credit upon Fort Valley High School. Your days here will never be forgotten, and our love and loyalty will always belong with you.

Good luck to each of you in the days to come.

GUIDANCE

Fort Valley High School now has a full-time guidance counselor, Coach Albert Radford, whose services include personal and group conferences with students desiring educational and/or vocational information. Any student in high school, teacher, or parent may use any service or materials available in the counseling office—from current college catalogs to special-interest and intellectual tests. The counselor provides time to give any student an interpretation of his scores on standard tests and will assist him in choosing a college and in making applications concerning continued study or employment.

Mr. Radford explains SAT scores to Bill and Austin.

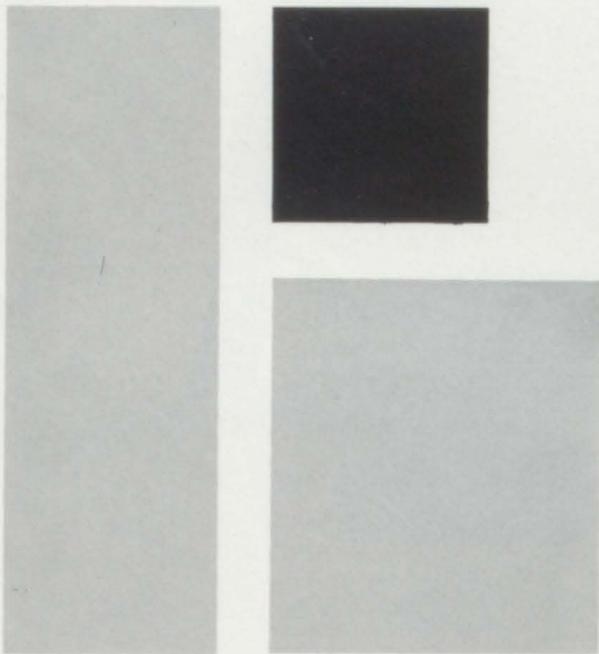

D.C.T.

D.C.T. is one of the two new subjects offered this year at FVHS. Under the supervision of Mr. Sims, students in this class learn the basic fundamentals needed in order to land and keep a job upon graduation. Classes in the morning and work in the afternoon provide training which is needed for a future vocation to those students enrolled in this course.

Mr. Sims offers to Rusty and Butch advice pertaining to their selected vocations.
